COMPANY INFORMATION

GTB Philosophy

Established in 1989, the GTB Group has been guided by the enduring motto, "Quality before Quantity." This unwavering commitment to prioritizing quality has been the cornerstone of our success. Our esteemed founder, Mr. Harmeet Singh, epitomized this ethos, firmly believing that "Business is a vehicle to serve people."

( The three sides of the triangle work in harmony to support each other )

Our philosophy is build upon this core principle of interdependence and shared prosperity. We believe that when we prioritize the satisfaction of our customers, it fosters a positive work environment for our dedicated employees, which fuels the growth of our business.

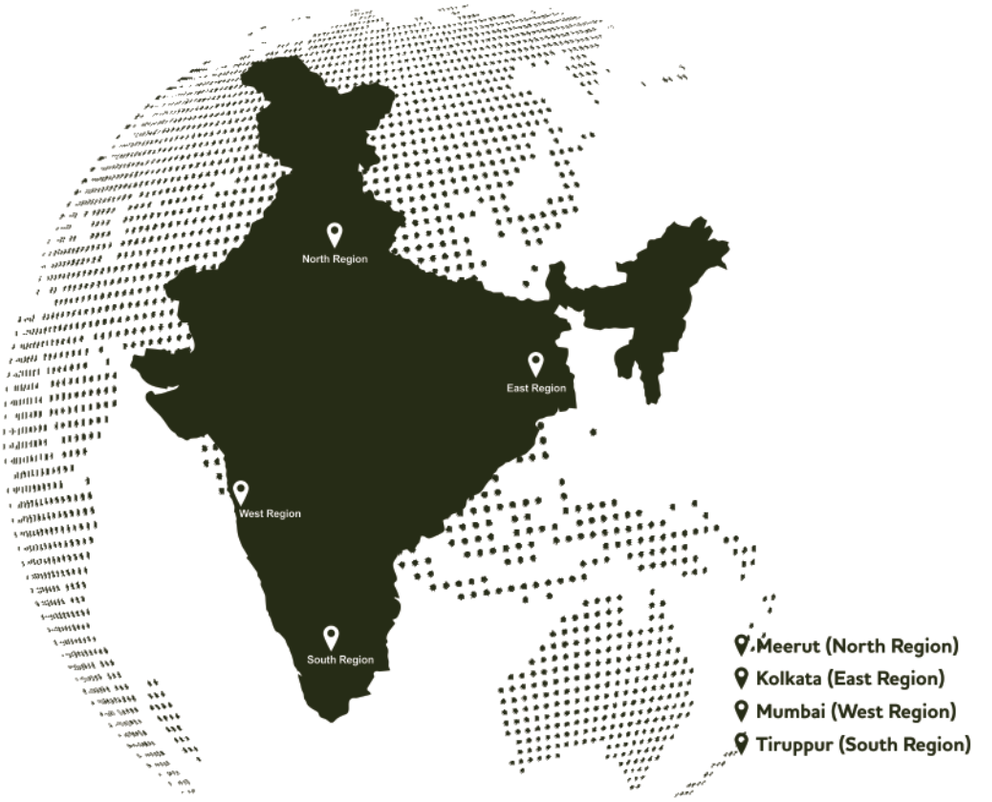

Business is a vehicle to serve people.

The key is to make a WIN - WIN - WIN situation for everyone. This helps us to be socially responsible and in this way, the GTB family thrives and our impact is felt far beyond our immidiate business.

GTB Syndicate

The GTB Group's management structure is global, overseeing the manufacturing of zipper fastening products in Meerut, India, known as the "Zipper Capital of the Country." This production hub benefits from the support of our state-of-the-art technology and machinery units, ensuring the highest quality standards.

Our global presence extends beyond manufacturing. Worldwide sales, marketing, and customer support functions are efficiently managed by four dedicated organizations based in India. This integrated approach allows us to effectively serve our international clientele while maintaining a cohesive global strategy.

The GTB Group operates in more than 13 countries, reflecting our commitment to international markets. Central to our business philosophy is the provision of customized zippers tailored to meet the unique needs and demands of our customers. This customer-centric approach has not only allowed us to adapt to the specific requirements of each country but has also been instrumental in expanding our presence and enhancing our global footprint.

In essence, our global management structure, rooted in the manufacturing excellence of Meerut, India, coupled with our customer-focused ideology, has been pivotal in driving our international success and ensuring that we remain at the forefront of the zipper fastening industry worldwide.

GTB India

The GTB brand was established in 1990, immediately following the foundation stone laying ceremony by Mr. Harmeet Singh for Shiva Fasteners Pvt. Ltd. in 1989.

With only a handful of machines, the manufacturing unit was set up in Meerut, India, and production commenced in August 1989. Initially, the products were supplied to the sports and garments industry within Meerut and its neighbouring cities.

The product range primarily consisted of polyester coil-forming zippers, also known as CFC zippers. As demand continued to grow, the production capacity expanded, leading to the establishment of additional manufacturing units in 2001 and 2007.

GTB India serves a vast and geographically diverse global market that includes Home Textiles, Furniture, Bed Covers, Garments, Upholstery, Auto Pack, Bag & Luggage Manufacturers, and many more. Our commitment to quality and continuous growth has positioned us as a leading player in these industries worldwide.

SUSTAINABILITY VISION 2030

Zippers crafted from more than 50% recycled materials, such as repurposed PET bottles, represent a significant leap forward in sustainable manufacturing and product design. This innovative approach not only conserves valuable resources but also addresses environmental concerns by diverting plastic waste from landfills and oceans.

The process of creating these eco-friendly zippers involves collecting, cleaning, and processing discarded PET bottles into a form suitable for zipper production. This initiative contributes to reducing the carbon footprint associated with the manufacturing of traditional zippers that rely solely on virgin materials.

By incorporating recycled materials into zipper production, we not only demonstrate a commitment to environmental responsibility but also set an example for the industry. These zippers offer a tangible and eco-conscious choice for consumers who seek sustainable options in their everyday products, further promoting the concept of a circular economy where materials are reused, reducing the strain on natural resources and contributing to a greener, more sustainable future.

Together with an increased use of sustainable materials, we are also addressing climate change, managing water resources, and chemicals as integral components of our Sustainable Vision 2030
